[1] 次の英文を読んで、設問に答えなさい。(39 点)

Once when I was a teenager, my father and I were standing in line to buy tickets for the circus. Finally, there was only one family between us and the ticket counter. This family ①made a big impression on me. There were eight children, all maybe under the age of 12. They surely didn't have a lot of money. Their clothes were not expensive, but they were clean. The children were well-behaved, all of ②them standing in line, two-by-two ③behind their parents, holding hands. They were excitedly talking about the clown, elephants and other acts they would see that night. Maybe it was the first time for them to go to the circus. ④It was sure to be a *highlight of their young ⑤lives.

The father and mother were standing proudly at the head of the group. The mother was holding A)her husband's hand, looking up at him *as if to say, "You're my hero." He was smiling with pride, looking at her as if to say, "⑥You got that right."

The ticket lady asked the father ⑦[wanted / tickets / many / he / how]. He proudly answered, "I want to buy eight children's tickets and two adult tickets so I can take my family to the circus."

The ticket lady said ⑧the price.

The man's wife *let go of his hand, her head dropped, the man's lip began to *quiver. B)The father moved a little and asked, "How much did you say?"

The ticket lady again said the price.

C)The man didn't have enough money.

How could he turn and tell his eight kids that he didn't have enough money to take them to the circus?

⑨Seeing what was going on, D)my dad put his hand into his pocket, pulled out a $20 bill and dropped it on the ground. (We were not wealthy at all!) My father reached down, picked up the bill, touched the man on the (あ) and said, "Excuse me, sir, ⑩this fell out of your pocket."

The man knew what was going on. He wasn't asking for my dad's help but he was very happy to have it *in a heartbreaking situation. He looked straight into my dad's (い), took my dad's (う) in both of his, held the $20 bill tightly, and with his (え) quivering and a tear running down his (お), E)he said, "Thank you, thank you, sir. This really means a lot to me and my family."

My father and I went back to our car and drove home. We didn't go to the circus that night, but ⑪we didn't go without.

- * highlight : 最高の場面 as if to say : まるで～と言わんばかりに let go of : ～を離れた quiver : 震える
 in a heartbreaking situation : 悲痛な状況で

[2] 次の英文を読んで、設問に答えなさい。(43点)

“They (a) like fish, and (b) like a wild horse. They were birds that (c) — but they (d) out of the water.” What were these strange things? In 1498, the Portuguese traveler *Vasco da Gama was surprised to see these animals in *the Atlantic Ocean, far from land. They were penguins, and they are still some of the most interesting and popular animals of the ocean.

There are eighteen *species of penguin in the world today. Two species — *the Adélie and the Emperor penguins — live in *Antarctica, but ①the others live in the *southern oceans, and they spend most of their time in the sea. All penguins have black backs and white fronts; this ②, because it is difficult to see them from above or from below. They do not have *the same wings and tails as birds that fly in the air; they have little short wings and tails, and big feet which help them to ‘fly’ in the water. But different species have different colors on their heads, and penguins can be as small as a chicken or as big as a small child.

It is often funny to (あ) penguins on land because their bodies look *fat and move in a strange way. But in the water it is very different. Penguins (い) flying and (う) to live in the water about ③fifty million years ago, and their bodies have slowly (え). Now the water (お) easily over their bodies, and this means they can 【 A 】 ; twenty-four kilometers *per hour. They can also travel a long way. Emperor penguins, for example, can 【 B 】 for a month and travel almost 1,600 kilometers.

They are very good at diving, too. Scientists have studied Emperor penguins, and these birds can 【 C 】 for eleven minutes *in one breath, and can 【 D 】 540 meters. Penguin eyes can 【 E 】 both in the air and in the water, and they have heavy *bones that help them to dive down deep.

Penguins are not usually afraid of people. In fact, they are often interested in people and will come to see what they are doing. Because of ④this it has been easy for people to take their eggs or even to catch the birds. For example, in 1867 in *the Falkland Islands people killed 405,000 penguins to get the oil from their bodies. The birds almost disappeared from the islands.

Today there are ⑤different dangers for penguins. One problem is that they have lost some of the places to leave their eggs. Another danger is that animals like *rats and dogs eat the eggs and young birds. But scientists are now worried about a new problem — changes in the weather. Warmer seas mean less food for the penguins, and so their numbers are becoming smaller. This is the biggest problem for penguins that live in the coldest places, like Emperor penguins. Emperor penguins can stay *alive when it is as cold as -60°C . ⑥We hope that [the end / mean / warmer / not / for / weather / does] these surprising birds.
